

CURRICULUM PLAN

1st Year completed at an accredited college or university.

English Composition	3 credits	Microbiology	4 credits
Intro. to Sociology	3 credits	Anatomy & Physiology II	4 credits
Intro. to Psychology	3 credits	Nutrition	3 credits
Chemistry	4 credits	Developmental Psychology	3 credits
Anatomy & Physiology I	4 credits	 Math (may be a high school level math or post secondary basic math, beginning algebra or {recommended} drug calculation course)	0 – 4 credits
 (within five years of enrollment to nursing curriculum)		TOTAL:	31 – 35 credits

2nd Year Nursing Courses taken at AMH Dixon School of Nursing.

Term I	Term II	Term III
N100 Perspective in Nursing is a self-study session for all accepted students Credits: 1
N101 Foundations in Nursing Credits: 10	N201 Adult Medical- Surgical Nursing I	N202 Adult Medical- Surgical Nursing II
Total Term 1 Credits: 11	Credits: 11	Credits: 11
Class Hours: 100 (120 class periods)	Class Hours: 100 (120 class periods)	Class Hours: 100 (120 class periods)
Clinical Hours: 100	Clinical Hours: 150	Clinical Hours: 150
Ratio: 1:1	Ratio: 1:1.5	Ratio: 1:1.5

3rd Year Nursing Courses taken at AMH Dixon School of Nursing.

Term I	Term II	Term III
N301 Nursing Care of the Family: 11 credits or N303 Advanced Concepts in Medical-Surgical Nursing: 11 credits	N302 Psychiatric/Mental Health and Community Nursing: 11 credits or N303 Advanced Concepts in Medical-Surgical Nursing: 11 credits	N301 Nursing Care of the Family: 11 credits or N302 Psychiatric/Mental Health and Community Nursing: 11 credits
Class Hours: 100 (120 class periods)	Class Hours: 100 (120 class periods)	Class Hours: 100 (120 class periods)
Clinical Hours: 150	Clinical Hours: 150	Clinical Hours: 150
Ratio: 1:1.5	Ratio: 1:1.5	Ratio: 1:1.5

An academic year of nursing is comprised of three eleven-week terms for Day option and three sixteen-week terms for Evening/Weekend option. Both options are considered full time.

All nursing credits are semester credits. The term "credits," as assigned to nursing courses, is used for grading purposes and is not meant to imply transferable credits. College course credits are assessed for transferability by the receiving institution and advanced placement for nursing courses is under the purview of the receiving college.